

Roading Engineers

By Janet Channon & Leah Channon

You need a long road from town to town,
You need a long road for driving around,
You need a long road from here to there.
Who do you call? You call the roading engineers.

I drive the bulldozer to scrape the ground,
The bulldozer to scrape the ground,
I drive the bulldozer with powerful gears,
Who do you call? You call the roading engineers.

I drive the digger to move the rocks,
The digger to move the rocks,
I drive the digger with powerful gears
Who do you call? You call the roading engineers.

I drive the tip truck to sprinkle the stones,
The tip truck to sprinkle the stones,
I drive the tip truck with powerful gears,
Who do you call? You call the roading engineers.

I drive the grader to spread the stones,
The grader to spread the stones,
I drive the grader with powerful gears,
Who do you call? You call the roading engineers.

I drive the roller to flatten the ground,
The roller to flatten the ground,
I drive the roller with powerful gears,
Who do you call? You call the roading engineers.

I drive the paver, I'm making it smooth,
The paver, I'm making it smooth,
I drive the paver with powerful gears
Who do you call? You call the roading engineers.

We built a long road from town to town,
We built a long road for driving around,
We built a long road from here to there,
Who did you call? You called the roading engine,
Who did you call? You called the roading engine,
Who did you call? You called the roading engineers.
